Bread for Breaking and Baking

This November, there are a variety of holidays that encourage the gathering of families and friends: Día de Muertos in Mexico, Diwali in India, Thanksgiving in the United States, Saint Andrew's Day in Scotland, and many others. These holidays offer the perfect opportunity to "break bread" with loved ones. While many will literally be breaking bread at their feast tables, the expression "break bread together" denotes sharing more than just food, but also feelings of love, trust, and togetherness.

Pride of the Pilgrims

In 1620, the pilgrims departed England on the Mayflower, looking for religious freedom in the New World. They had contracted with the Virginia Company to establish a colony in Virginia, but storms drove their ship far off course, and they landed instead on what is now Cape Cod. Far from Virginia, the pilgrims aboard the Mayflower began to argue that they were no longer bound to the laws of Virginia Company. Pilgrim leader William Bradford knew that without laws the colonists would turn against themselves. And so, on November 11, 1620, the colonists signed the Mayflower Compact, a set of laws establishing order within their new colony. Historians now believe that it was this document that allowed the colonists to work for each other and survive that

Jukebox Heroes

The very first jukebox was installed by Louis Glass in San Francisco's Palais Royale Saloon on November 23, 1889. His nickel-in-the-slot machine was little more than an Edison wax cylinder phonograph fitted with Glass' own invention, a coin slot. The machine did not have any speakers or means of amplification, so listeners had to put their ear to one of four listening tubes to hear the music. And listen they did! In the first six months of operation, that single nickel-in-slot phonograph machine earned over $1,000. Glass quickly installed other machines throughout the area, which helped him earn thousands. Before long, other inventors got in on the game, inventing their own coin-operated music players.

Miniature jukeboxes first appeared on the tables of diners in the 1950s.

In 1918, Hobart Niblack created a device that could automatically change records. This led to the invention of the first machine that could play
